FROM the SIDELINES

By TAD TARG

TEMPERAMENTAL

Forgive me for my outburst in last week's Sidelines.

But it sort of built up inside of me, and well, I had to let off steam.

The "straw, that broke the camel's back" was an editorial in an afternoon paper.

Writing editorials is like using a toothpaste — squeeze it hard and you spill the contents all over the place.

What's more — the spilled toothpaste can never be recovered again, nor is there any way of putting it back in the tube.

The damage is done.

I only tried to undo it.

MY APOLOGIES

We received some letters critical of a political inference in what was meant to have been a purely sporting matter.

I acknowledge the views expressed by the writers of these letters and the wisdom contained therein.

I wish to assure my readers that I had no intention of upsetting anyone's political feelings.

CLEANEST ON RECORD

The Prague—Hakoah encounter last Sunday must have been the cleanest on record.

Both teams played good and fair football.

The clash between Bill Walsh and L. Baumgartner was a delightful battle of wits and nothing else, with Bill, more often than not, emerging the winner.

It was one of Bill's best and calmest exhibitions, although the whole Hakoah team played excellent football.

However, constant bombardment of Hakoah's goal by Prague super-forwards eventually took its toll.

FIVE-STAR RATING

Besides Prague someone else emerged the winner — referee Roy Pearce.

He had a big hand in the setting and maintaining the spirit in which the game was played.

He gave us some of the best refereeing we've seen in this State.

Last Sunday, he was doing his field test for his International Referee's Certificate.

In my humble opinion he must have got a five-star rating.

1958 WORLD CUP FILM

Critics of all sports acclaim the 1958 World Cup Series as the greatest soccer film ever made.

Thousands have so far flocked to see the film in Australia.

The two-hour long film covers most of the matches and features teams from many countries, as well as the brilliant exhibition of football by the Brazilian team in it's final encounter with Sweden.

It is on next Monday and Tuesday at the Assembly Hall, Margaret Street, Sydney, at 7.30 pm.

WISE DECISION

The Management Committee's recommendation to cut the number of clubs back to 12 in each division next year is wise one.

Apart from lack of grounds a 14-team competition produces too many "weak" matches.

By "weak" matches, I mean games between our top teams and the very bottom ones, resulting in a falling off gates.

Also, with three teams being demoted, there will be an added incentive this year, when, towards the end of the competition, some five or six clubs will be in danger of relegation.

This will stimulate interest and — should some of them meet one another in the final stages — there will be, paradoxically, capacity crowds to watch them.

These gates will, no doubt help the teams to get back on their feet next season, as usually happens overseas.

For the same reasons I suggest relegation and promotion of TWO teams, and not one, in the future.

CHANGE IN RULE ON INJURIES

The Federation Council will be asked to adopt at its next meeting the FIFA rule, which became operative on July 27, 1958, regarding replacement of injured players.

The rule applies as follows:

(1) GOALKEEPER — The goalkeeper may be replaced in the event of injury at any time during the game.

(2) ONE OTHER PLAYER — One other player may be replaced in the event of injury before half-time.

Repleacements in this case must be effected before half-time; a player CANNOT be replaced during the half-time interval.

The Management Committee has discussed the new rule and will recommend its adoption.

COMPETITION CUT TO 12 TEAMS

The Federation Management Committee will recommend to the Council that three First Division clubs be relegated to Second Division and one club promoted.

From the Second Division five clubs will be relegated to the Third Division.

Third Division teams will be selected in accordance with the Constitution — they must have an enclosed ground, sound management and be in reasonable financial circumstances.

BAN ON NEWS OF PLAYERS BAN?

Federation secretary Eddie Princi left Sydney last Tuesday for Zurich to discuss with FIFA the disqualification of former FK Austria players now with Prague.

This business of disqualification has been most unsatisfactory as far as the Federation is concerned.

While the what, where and why of it all was being given a good public airing by "experts', the Federation Management Committee had not been officially notified of the "disqualifications".

Only last Monday night was it brought to the notice of the Management Committee, which disposed of it in five minutes.

Critical

Some people have been critical of our editorial comment in this respect.

But when you consider that the daily Press was able to get advance information, then proceed to attack the Federation for its inaction, surely we could not sit idly by and say nothing.

Let's recall the events of the last few weeks and bring things up to date.

Remember the Federation Leagues selection and the inclusion of all players and the refusal of the Sydney section to allow any interference with the international training squad.

Did the people, who came to see the Federation team in action against the Costa Ricans have any cause to complain with the presentation, the game and its result?

Have Australians, at last, been able to take a pride in their soccer representation?

Do you really think that Australia has established a place on the world soccer "ladder"?

Refusal

Now take Hearts refusal to play against the selected Federation team because it contained allegedly disqualified players.

When you consider that the people who selected the Federation team for the proposed Wednesday night game had no official knowledge of the disqualifications until last Monday night, don't you think they had a right to demand that the team play as selected?

What information did the Hearts have that we did not have?

Why was this information with-held from the Federation's Management Committee, Sydney section.

How was the Newcastle section of the Leagues able to come to Sydney prepared to uphold FIFA's "disqualifications", and the Sydney section know nothing of it until after a meeting of the Leagues last Friday night.

That secret meeting - and what happened

Last week a Sydney morning paper ran a story of a secret meeting being convened by a Federation club for the purpose of curbing the "foreign" influence in Federation soccer.

We can hardly believe that any club within the Federation would be foolish enough to seal their own doom by even suggesting such a course of action.

We do know, however, that recent Press propaganda has gone to the heads of some people, who appear to have lost all sense of balance in relation to soccer as it exists at the present time.

But we can report a meeting that did take place for the alleged formation of a "players union".

Four clubs were represented and a chairman and secretary elected pro tem.

What the purpose of the meeting was is not quite clear, but quite a lot was said that had no relation to the purpose for which the meeting was called.

Somebody even suggested that the meeting should write to England for the players' organisation rules and regulations etc., something that should have been done long before the meeting was called.

Apparently nothing was achieved and another meeting was suggested of all clubs' retained players at a later date.

Now this paper is not against any meeting of players, but what we can't understanding is the hurried nature of the meeting. Why all the rush?

Why not do it in an open methodical manner instead of hurried telphone requests for a meeting.

For the information of players, the organisation in England is a trade union affiliated with the Trade Union Council.

As such its members enjoy conditions far in excess of those prior to its registration as a trade union.

Professional soccer in England is classified as a trade or profession and soccer clubs are proprietry companies.

There, it is a case of employee

TEAM of the WEEK

Every week an A and B team will be selected from the best players in First Division teams.

The best A team player will be nominated as the "Player of the Week" and will score three points.

All other A team nominations will receive two points and B team players one point.

The player with the highest number of points at the end of the season will automatically become Player of the Year.

Ampol Cup fixtures, Federation Cup matches and the competition semi-finals, final and grand-final will not be taken into account.

Here are the players who stood out in last weekend's two rounds of matches.

Player of the Week

LEN QUESTED

Auburn's star player, Len Quested, was once again the brains behind his team's big win.

This master tactician played a big part, as he featured in every scoring action, giving his forwards, especially the centre forward, magnificent openings.

This reliable and tireless player is irreplacable if his club is to play itself into premiership calculations.

He is the only one capable of moulding the team into a top combination.

PROGRESS POINTS

PROGRESS POINTS: G. Vasvary (APIA) 13; P. Peters (Corrimal) 10; R. Hawkshaw (APIA) 8; J. Pretswell (Gladesville), B. Morrow (Auburn), J. De Pyper (Sydney Austral), R. Young (Corrimal), G. Cinat (APIA), 7 each.

Letters to the Editor

THE 'WAR' TO WIN THE PUBLIC

The time has come to start the real soccer "war" — the war to attract big crowds and make soccer the No. 1 winter sport in Sydney.

Despite the enormous strides made by the Federation, the imagination of the general public has not been captured.

If we are to be content with a mere change of official control, soccer will continue to be regarded as a "sissy game played mainly by New Australians".

Only time will tell whether this "war" will be lost or won, but the result will be determined by today's actions.

The First Division must be made of general interest and glamorised.

Some very important suburbs have no teams in the First Division.

It should be possible to persuade one of the New Australian clubs to move into the South Sydney (Redfern—Newtown) area.

Then Corrimal and Balgownie should be replaced with Manly and St. George teams.

These two teams should be built up with players from existing clubs, and possibly importations from overseas.

Grounds problem

Suburban grounds would have to be gradually improved if larger crowds are to be accommodated.

The removal of the music shell from the Sydney Athletic Field would give the Eastern Suburbs a first-class stadium.

One way to arouse public interest would be to change the names of the teams to something less specific.

Now we have a mixture of clubs representing a few districts and playing mainly in the western suburbs and of New Australian clubs in the eastern suburbs.

Their supporters are restricted predominately to a district or national group.

Names such as Arsenal, Bohemians, Kangaroos, Olympia, Barbarians, Tigers, Black Devils etc. would break down these barriers.

Now a game between Prague and Budapest appears to the uninitiated to be an affair between New Australians, and a match played by Granville could not be expected to cause interest in Parramatta or Rydalmere.

On the other hand, a game between, say, Arsenal and Tigers could be a sensation all over Sydney.

Glamor games

Saturdays should be reserved for league games and Sundays used for more glamorised occasions.

Sunday games could be designed to draw large crowds, but not disrupt the competition games.

There should be yearly matches against Newcastle, Queensland, South Coast and Victoria.

A Sydney—Melbourne match would be one no other football code could organise.

Soccer is the only really international code and this is our big asset.

Teams should be brought here from all over the world to help promote the game by arousing public interest and building up finance.

But touring teams should not be allowed to disrupt the club championship.

Above all, every medium of publicity must be exploited.

Free tickets and even free transport may be a way of introducing the game to schools, factories, nursing groups and other organisations.

If we do these things, the names of our clubs and players will become household words and Australian soccer will achieve international standing.

"ODDO", Sydney.

This weekend's games

Sunday's Prague—APIA clash should draw the largest crowd in years to Lambert Park and possibly the best since the war.

The progressive APIA club has now firmly established itself in the very soccer-conscious Leichhardt district and the visiting team's football ability is unquestionable.

This game could easily develop into the best seen to date this season.

Both teams can play copybook soccer and have proved it, Prague by remaining unbeaten and winning the Ampol Cup ad APIA by only losing one match, and that narrowly, to Corrimal.

Both teams also are star-studded.

Prague has the fabled Austrians, who need no introduction, flying Ronnie Lord, equal to any of the world's top goalies, promising youngsters Scheinflug and Sherwin, and experienced Kev O'Neil.

The team, too, will be stregthened by the return of skipper Ken Hiron, who has been out because of an injury and who made a quiet come-back at right full-back last week.

APIA have just as many remarkable players in their line-up — "Red" Vasvary, one of the State's best, veterans Marston, Hawkshaw and Stedman, talented young goalie Tristic and the very-able wingers de Paoli and Eggler, plus two of Sydney's most consistent wing-halves, Cinat and Alocca.

I feel the match should reach great heights.

APIA will off set their technical inferiority with their perfect knowledge of the Lambert Park playing area.

They will really feel at home as no team in Sydney, and probably Australia, enjoys such tremendous vocal support as the Leichhardt 11 at Lambert Park.

Baumgartner and Co. have seen more vociferous crowds in their much travelled careers and should give the large crowd something to really scream about if they really "turn it on".

APIA had a very hard tussle before they beat Balgownie 2—1 last Sunday, but the "Villagers" are always hard to handle on their home-ground.

By L. Gautier

But both can come back in the limelight again — they certainly have the talent and soccer know-how to test any side in the State.

Auburn's new player, Alan Bilbey, is getting feast of the ball thanks to Quested's clever work.

Morrow is more suited to the outside-right position, and with Hall, Bilbey, Quested and possibly an international winger to fill in the outside-left berth, Auburn should have a second to none attack.

Federation squad member Eddie Jones should have his hands full with Bruce Morrow and their encounter should be one of the many highlights of this match.

It will also be interesting to see Australia's new international goalie, Ron Brown, in action as the Canterbury player will be staking claims to future Federation squad selection — the selection that really counts.

Gladesville, who go down the Coast to play Corrimal, will be keen to defeat the minor premiers after thrashing the 1958 grand finalists.

The "Miners" would do well to tighten their defence if Hume and Co. are to be subdued.

I feel that Gladesville are the form team of the moment and that their recently-built side is really starting to shape nicely.

Corrimal have once again shown that they are the competition's toughest team to subdue.

The players never get rattled and fight to the finish.

Learmonth is a great leader in the forwards.

Canterbury had a "rest" last week thanks to Gladesville's sporting attitude and their mid-week match against Prague must have certainly tired them.

Nevertheless, the team will be full of determination.

It, too, cannot afford to lose many more points if it is to repeat its previous great performances.

Auburn and Canterbury have been having a lean period.

Marshall was the best player on the field for his side.

Although well past his prime, this agressive and distributing outside left turned centre forward is Granville's outstanding personality.

Marshall, Cuneen, Linder, Kendall and Hawkins are the backbone of an improving team.

McIntyre is developing into a very clever player.

I think GRANVILLE will win.

I feel the home team will be too solid all-round for the moody Budapest XI.

The latter has serious weaknesses in some departments, but, on the other hand, Schopf, Galambos, Melinz, Schauman and Voros can have flashes of sustained brilliance, enabling them to win matches.

North Side United will play Balgownie in one of

Marston's big job

Eggler is playing very well and will give Hiron a lot of work.

Marston will have his toughest task in many years when opposed to the elusive Baumgartner and will have to lift his game if the APIA defence is to hold out.

Vasvary should delight the crowd with his grand positional play, deadly kicks and beautiful openings.

He will have an added incentive as he will be flat-out to show what he can do when playing with men of the calibre of the former Austrians.

I take PRAGUE to win.

Eastern Suburbs fans also should see good football when Hakoah plays Sydney Austral at the E.S. Marks Field on Sunday.

Last week both teams were beaten, but not disgraced. Hakoah tired badly in the last 15 minutes of their exciting clash with Prague on the same ground.

Sydney Austral lost their first game in seven weeks when they went down 2—1 to the vigorous Corrimal team, who took full advantage of Austral's poor shooting in front of goal and Evans' off-day.

Hakoah desperately needs a top centre-forward and this was again dramatically demonstrated last Sunday, when Burgoyne failed to capitalise on Hearne's excellent openings.

The backs and halves were excellent otherwise, and A. Rowe proved himself a very adequate substitute.

Walsh was efficient, but the team would gain if he distributed more often instead of clearing the ball with such vigor.

Frank Hearne, though he had played the day before against Hearts in Melbourne, was Hakoah's best player and worked tirelessly putting the team time and again in attack.

His clash with the improved Osfield should be a highlight of this match.

I am tipping SYDNEY AUSTRAL to win.

I feel that they will be smarting from last week's poor display against Corrimal and I believe that they can play much better.

Their robust tactics could upset their opponents, who will have to pull up their socks if they are to play an interesting part in the competition.

Sydney Austral still have high hopes and will be striving to stay among the leaders.

Saturday's main match is a thrilling clash between last year's top teams Canterbury and Auburn, at Arlington Oval.

This game should produce clean, hard and scientific football, as both coaches are certain to devise tactics to lift their tams,

I am going for a DRAW, though I think Canterbury is the better team this year.

But the "Berries" probably will have played such a hard match against Prague the previous Wednesday that this could off set anything lacking on Auburn's part.

Auburn is building up a promising team, which led by a Len Quested in great form, could make up some of its lost ground in the race for top honors.

Kangyar "mystery"

Rowles is showing some glimpses of old form and the halves are possibly the most reliable in NSW, with Williams, Young and Peters, who have tons of experience.

Against Sydney Austral the "Miners" refused to be thrown off-balance in the first half when their opponents were in control of the game.

Their stubborness was rewarded when reserve Rowan scored the decider.

Rowan must be given credit for the goal, but I feel that Kangyar is being wasted in the reserves.

He has the best ball control south of Sydney.

I am at a loss to understand why he does not make the "firsts" regularly.

I can assure Corrimal that many other clubs would only be too happy to sign on this misused player, who has never been allowd to really show what he can do.

Though Gladesville are a real threat, I tip CORRIMAL to win this match, which will be a 90-minute ding-dong battle.

Both goalies will have a lot of work, though the defences are nearly impregnable.

If Hume can break through the tight Corrimal cover defence, I expect the home team to be in real bother.

But I have sufficient faith in Corrimal's experience and fighting spirit to carry them through to another win.

Budapest will make its first appearance at Gran-Arthur Park and if Granville fans are to see the "real" Budapest it is hoped that the line-up will be one which suits players natural ability.

It is beyond me why Voros, a natural right winger, should be shifted to outside left; Galambos to the inside-position; and, above all, Irvine Shopf, an invaluable asset in defence, to the forwards, where he is completely out of touch.

Lang is no forward, but a useful half.

One thing is clear however, if Budapest are to play as well as they did early in the season then it must field the same team and not make all these changes.

Goalie Bihary saved the team from certain defeat against North Side United in a drab and colourless game.

North Side were the main offenders, but the home team must share the blame.

Galambos' goal was the only flash of brillance in a colorless afternoon of football.

Budapest will have to play much better against Granville, who always play well at home.

Schopf will have to be back at wing half in order to check the elusive Kendall.

Granville were maginficent in gaining a draw in the last minutes at Bankstown Oval.

Victorian News and Views

From L. K. STONE

Hearts of Middlothian last weekend comfortably defeated a pathetic so-called Australian team 9—1 and I thought it was noble of the visitors not to score double the number of goals.

More than 18,000 people went to Olympic Park and one expected Australia to give the brilliant Scots a little more than token resistance.

Selectors must take the blame for turning such an opportunity to promote and popularise soccer into a farce.

They are going the right way about it, if their intention is to kill the game.

Victoria's Scottish population, many of them seeing their first soccer match in Australia, turned out in force to give the brilliant Hearts a tremendous reception.

For Australia, goalie Joe Reuyters, who was not considered for the Victorian State side, was magnificent.

His heroic saves earned him many admirers.

I thought the backs and halfbacks were very poor, and, therefore, the forwards never had a chance to show their worth.

Under the circumstances, it was a complete waste of time and money to bring such players as Hearn, Hume and Salisbury to Victoria.

They are obviously used to and deserve to be in better company from a playing strength point of view.

It is difficult to say much about the Hearts, other than that they are a great team, who gave a perfect exhibition of scientific soccer — but alas it was hardly a warm up for them.

Easy victory

Hamilton 4, Young 2, Wardhaugh, Murrey and Crawford scored one each, and Hume was credited with Australia's lone goal.

Although the Victorian team on Sunday was stronger than Australia the previous day, Hearts were still able to do as they pleased in their easy 5—0 victory.

The visitors' passing was a sheer delight and on many occasions their forwards showed extreme genorosity when in scoring positions.

In the early stages Victoria played very well, but several dangerous moves broke down on the right wing, where Leuyton was completely overshadowed.

The selectors wisely brought Oxton into the game in his place in the second half and though the right winger was much more effective, it was apparant that the Victorians had run out of steam.

The Hearts defence was so superior that their possessing of the ball from the Victorian forwards was like taking candy from a kid.

Victoria's full backs Hartley and Reduk were sound, and wing halves Thomas and T. Vella worked diligently the whole 90 minutes.

Frangioni spoilt some good work by temperamental antics. The forwards didn't impress and a good shot like Meier or Hodgen would have made the score presentable, particularely as the wing halves' distribution to their forwards was exccellent.

Hearts perfect control was amazing, with Murrey, Bauld and Hamilton particularely prominent.

The best goal of the match was scored by Bauld — a terrific drive from 30 yards.

Hearts will play Victoria again this Sunday and if I was selecting the team, I would choose: Reuyters; Hartley and Reduk; Thomas, Barker, T. Vella; Oxton, Meir or Hodgeon, De Brueyekere, Laughran, Peterssen. Reserves: Picinich and Cubero.

Weekend preview

the season's five matches at Chatswood Oval.

This should be the now or never bid by Maxie Walker's boys to take two points.

Balgownie is still battling along with injuries and players badly out of touch.

NSU's form was too bad to be true last week, and though they had the better of the play never really looked like winning.

With three First Division teams scheduled for demotion, this will be the battle of the wooden spooners.

The game should be a grim struggle for possession.

I feel the team's better passing and attacking ability will win the day, so I am forecasting a win for NORTH SIDE UNITED.

Balgownie surprised by going down narrowly to APIA at home last Sunday and had Ganis been anywhere near his true form the team could have even sprung the season's biggest surprise.

Last week's bright spot for Balgownie was Grant's magnificent replacement of injured Englishman Bowley at centre half.

Concord fans also will see a hard, grim battle between lowly placed teams when Concord play hosts to Bankstown.

I am tipping BANKSTOWN to record its second win of the season and move out of the danger zone, where it has stayed too long.

The Towns will have to take full advantage of the so called "easy" games from now on.

It would be a blow to soccer if Bankstown was lost to the First Division.

Bankstown, however, showed patches of good football when they drew with Granville.

Winger Ian Brown is certainly the current star of the team though Barry Wainright is no mean proposition himself when it comes to "making" goals.

But Bankstown, too, seems to be in urgent need of a classy centre forward.

Irvine is always reliable in goal and now that Bilbey is gone Concord will find it still harder to score goals.

But young Gibson and Warren have been giving good accounts of themselves, and with Davies and centre half MacFarlan are above the others.

Coach Ted Hillyard has a lot of work ahead of him if Concord is to stay in top-class football.

But as long as the ball is round one never knows what may happen.

Sydney wins 'Varsity Cup

Sydney University beat the University of NSW 5—3 last week to win the Inter-Varsity Soccer Cup.

The Cup competition was played over five days with Brisbane, Armidale, Melbourne and Adelaide teams competing, in addition to the finalists.

The matches were played on Sydney University grounds.

Adelaide University won the Chen Cup for "sportsmanship and appearance".

The inter-varsity competition will be played next year at Adelaide.

The Australian Universities Representative side, selected at the completion of the competition, included W. MacGillivray, A. Middleberg and G. Yap from Sydney, with P. Bayliss, P. Saunders and W. Yee from the University of NSW.

AROUND THE JUNIORS

Queen's Birthday weekend will see the biggest junior football event ever staged in the Gladesville area.

Final matches will be played by various grades in the 1959 gala competitions.

Preliminary rounds are being played in all 12 divisions tomorrow (June 6) on grounds from Gladesville to Pennantl Hills.

Some finals also will be played at Waitara Oval on Queen's Birthday.

Grounds in use for the preliminary rounds are Gladesville Sports Ground, Glades Bay, Meadowbank, Boronia Park, Epping, Ryde Park, Campbell Park, Pennant Hills Oval, Thornleigh Park.

Senior and cadet referees make their services available without fee, and Gladesville-Ryde club has made the ground available at no cost to the District Association.

BIG REVUE

A variety show, featuring Arthur Ward and an all-star cast, will be held at Epping School of Arts on Friday night June 26, to assist the juniors.

In addition to being an outstanding singer and etertainer, Arthur Ward is well-known in the district as a cricketer and an outstanding referee.

NORTH SHORE

Wahroonga club is the biggest in the Kuring-gai Association, fielding eight teams.

Other clubs are Lindfield 6, West Pymble 5, Bradfield 4, Kissing Point 3, North Turramurra 3, East Gordon, Mt. Colah, and St. Ives, each 2.

Auburn's First Division star Len Quested, has undertaken to coach the Granville Under 12 Rep side for the rest of the season.

He has suggested a six-week coaching course, for team managers and coaches.

Granville Association is also being very well cared for in regard to the Under 16 Rep. side.

Cec. Drummond, ex-international, has taken them under his wing.

If everything goes to plan Granville could be the force to beat in the coming inter-district comptitions.

Granville Junior Association secretary, Mr Les Spicer, has been granted leave of absence because of business commitments.

Mr Spicer's efficiency in the Granville Association is appreciated by all in the district and all look forward to his return to the Association.

Management committeeman and Granville Association publicity officer, Mr Alan Forbes, of the All Stars club, is acting secretary.

Club secretaries should forward correspondence to the acting secretary, 14 Chiswick Road, Auburn.

A plan to expand the Granville Junior Referee's Association was revealed at the monthly general meeting by the Referees' secretary, Mr Harry Berle.

Mr Berle plans a recruiting drive for junior referees from the age of 14 upwards, who will be tested by the Referees' Association and, on passing, awarded a junior referees' tickey.

Mr Berle can be contacted at YU 3411.

and employer.

Here in Sydney we play "social" soccer.

Administrators of clubs here are just enthusiastic soccer-lover, who devote their leisure hours, their money and labor for the games sake, and no financial gain to themselves or their club.

Now, until such time as we have proprietry companies controlling soccer in Sydney, how can players demand anything from people, who give their lives, their time and money in an effort to keep soccer going.

Players under the Federation enjoy conditions far in excess of their counterparts in former years.

Even the most lowly-placed clubs pay a minimum of £3 a week expenses.

Some Second Division clubs pay more than that.

All players are insured for up to £15 a week.

So what can a player now demand from men, who devote their time for a player's wel fare?

How far will an individual go in his leisure hours before some players realise that he has contributed to his maximum, his energy and finance just for the love of soccer.

In the circumstances is it possible to make demands on such an enthusiast?

"Banned" Players

The "banned" players have been playing football here for several months and nobody raised any objections.

Nobody in higher circles demanded that these players be withdrawn, nor did opposing teams make any protest.

Maybe now some people will realise that the Federation stood for progress in soccer and would not be part and parcel of a line of thought or action that would permit visiting teams to achieve success at the expense of Australian football.

The whole unfortunate business came at a time when Australian soccer was in a turbulent state due to years of maladministration.

Without the Federation the Hearts tour looked a miserable failure, that is before they left Scotland.

Then came affiliation for the Federation, and everyone had visions of Baumgartner and company playing against our Scottish visitors in some of the greatest tussles ever seen in soccer in this country.

Answer

We wonder what would have happened if the original team to play Hearts in Newcastle, which included Baumgartner and Jaros, had been allowed to take the field?

Maybe some of the critics, who sank to great depths recently can answer that?
